SCOUTED BOBCATS

Bobcats' Performance Closely Watched by Coaches of Leopard 11

By RALPH B. KITE
of DeQueen Daily Citizen

DE QUEEN, Ark.—In preparation for a record-breaking crowd when Hope High School Bobcats come to De Queen to meet the Leopards Friday afternoon, the local school Athletics Booster association is rushing completion of extra bleachers to seat an additional 1,000 spectators at Fair park field.

The game with Hope has been designated Homecoming day by school officials, and the crowning of a queen will be one of the features.

Have Scouted Hope

Coaches Jack Robinson and Emil Beppie have both scouted the Bobcats this season, and they are sending the Leopards through a stiff schedule of workouts this week in an effort to get them in condition to stem the rushes of Cargile, Bright and other luminaries of the Hope squad.

Since the game will apparently determine the championship of District 10, it is expected that one of the largest crowds to ever witness a game here will be on hand at 2:30 p. m. Friday.

Leopard coaches and team supporters recognize that the Bobcats will probably offer the stiffest opposition encountered this season, and nothing is being left undone to have the team and the cheering section in first class condition.

An inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs in this district, scheduled for Friday night at the Burlew Hotel here is expected to draw additional spectators who will arrive early enough for the game.

Italy Threatens to Withdraw From League If Boycotted

Meanwhile, Italian Scouts Locate 1/4 Million Ethiopians Ahead of Them on Two Battle Fronts

ROME, Italy.—(AP)—Italy Tuesday implicitly threatened her withdrawal from the League of Nations by a note protesting against the invocation of sanctions against her.

Italy, in her document, informed the sanctionist nations that "she had not wished until now to dissociate herself from the Geneva institution despite her opposition to the procedure which would do her damage, because she desires to prevent the conflict which is now being considered from leading to more vast complications."

1/4 Million Ethiopians

ITALIAN GENERAL HEADQUARTERS.—(AP)—Ethiopians were reported by Italian scouts Tuesday to have arrived at a quarter-million warriors, despite her opposition to the procedure which would do her damage, because she desires to prevent the conflict which is now being considered from leading to more vast complications.

Italians Move Up

ASMARA, Eritrea.—(AP)—Thousands of fresh troops moved up Tuesday to bolster Italy's northern front in Ethiopia. The Italian division marched beyond Edaga Hamus, about 15 miles southeast of Adigrat, on a route to Makale.

To Defend Railroad

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie Monday night ordered 5,000 troops rushed from the capital to Jijiga in a supreme effort to hold that key town against an Italian assault from the south. Officials believed the ultimate object of the Italians is to cut the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad, less than 75 miles northwest of the town.

They said Fascist movements from Mount Mussa All, on the northeast, toward the railroad had failed. Jijiga, however, is one of the strategic points protecting the railroad from the south.

Committees were appointed Tuesday to solicit clothing for needy Hope school children in a city-wide canvass to be held Thursday.

An appeal was issued Monday by the Parent-Teachers association, asking every Hope citizen to contribute at least one article of clothing, new or used.

A committee of women also has been appointed to make necessary alterations—so style and size of clothing does not matter.

The committees to solicit clothing are:

Ward One—Mrs. E. P. Young and Mrs. Edwin Dossett.

Ward Two—Mrs. Cecil Weaver and Mrs. Bernard O'Dwyer.

Ward Three—Mrs. H. O. Kytler and Mrs. Joe Coleman.

Ward Four—Mrs. Ched Hall and Mrs. Ruffin White.

Persons who have clothing to donate, but will not be at home Thursday, may leave their articles with a neighbor or bring them to Hope city hall.

President Speaks at Soldier's Tomb

Warns of Trade Restrictions as War Source on Armistice Day

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, leading America's Armistice Observance at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, struck sharply Monday at trade restrictions as a cause of discord among nations.

Mr. Roosevelt stressed "the power of a good example" as the "strongest force in the world," and announced that the United States and Canada had cemented a century of friendship with an agreement to lift "unreasonable" trade barriers.

"If we as a nation, by our good example, can contribute to the peaceful well-being of the fellowship of nations," the president said, "our course through the years will not have been in vain."

Stressing need for peace, the president said it was "the primary purpose" of this nation to avoid being drawn into war. He pledged "adequate" preparedness. Then, speaking of "dangers" confronting mankind, he said:

Arkansas First in South to Do Duty

This State Leads Dixie in Taking Care of Its Own Relief Problem

ATLANTA, Ga.—(AP)—Arkansas leads states in the South in legislative provisions for caring for its relief problem.

End of the federal dole is scheduled for November 15, and what to do after that is an outstanding question in Kentucky, Mississippi, Florida, South Carolina, Louisiana and Alabama.

In Mississippi, Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana, no provision has been made to cope with the situation when federal help stops.

The 1934 legislature of Kentucky appropriated $250,000 a month for relief, but payments have not been made regularly to the Federal Relief Administration and the matter is expected to be an important one before the 1936 assembly which meets the first week in January. No special provision was made for relief after Nov. 15.

Arkansas is coping for its unemployed with proceeds from the liquor gallonage tax, horse race levy, pool tables and slot machine tax and part of the revenue from the sales tax. The State Welfare Commission allotted $75,000 monthly to care for 11,000 unemployed families.

To Complete Gift of Surplus Foodstuffs

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—State Works Progress Administrator W. R. Dye announced approval from Washington Tuesday for a project to continue the distribution of surplus commodity foodstuffs to unemployed through the State Welfare Commission.

No allotment for the project has been made. Under the present system of distribution, unemployed have been receiving commodities from the FERA, but in anticipation of this organization being liquidated this month the new project was set up.

Bulletins

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(AP)—Mrs. Daisy Alexander Root, 30, pleaded innocent Tuesday when arraigned in criminal court on a charge of slaying her husband, Brenton Root, following a quarrel over a night club cigarette girl.

MANILA.—(AP)—Rescue of 54 persons endangered when the freighter Silver Hazel ripped apart on the rocks of San Bernardino straits was undertaken Tuesday by the United States navy.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Preparation of a federal guide book of the United States and other relief activities were reported Tuesday to be giving employment to 2,500 writers from the relief rolls. Arkansas has 48 employed.

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Governor Futrell said Tuesday that he was backing no candidate in next year's gubernatorial campaign and that the extent of his participation would be to "cast my vote." Commenting on reports that a candidate for governor has the state administration's backing, Governor Futrell said "when my term of office expires I will be ready to retire from public life."

RAGOO, Burma.—Crews of planes seeking Sir Charles Kingsford Smith and his copilot, Tom Pettibridge, lost on an England-Australia flight, were reported Tuesday that the search was "virtually hopeless." Officials announced, however, that the hunt would continue.

Depression's Cost Put at 26 1/2 Billions

U. S. Still "in Red" in 1934 But Gap Is Being Steadily Closed

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A staggering $26,631,000,000 was tabulated by the government Monday as the depression's cost to business.

The Commerce Department reported this sum had been taken out of savings to make up the difference between expenses and the value of goods and services produced. It noted that a marked improvement in 1934 failed to prevent another loss.

Last year's production of goods and services was valued at $48,561,000,000, a gain of $6,672,000,000 over 1933.

This value, however, was sufficient for expenses. Business had to draw down $1,628,000,000 from surpluses and other savings in order to meet wage, dividend, interest and other outlays.

In 1929, income produced was greater than income paid out by $2,402,000,000, with the result that this amount was added to business savings, in contrast with the losses, or withdrawals from savings, in the subsequent years.

From the standpoint of separate sections of the nation's economy, agriculture showed the largest gain in its proportion of income produced. Whereas in 1929 it accounted for 8.8 per cent, in 1934 its share was 0.2.

Appropriations Delayed Until January by Deficit; Justices Disregard Referendum Gesture

Prohi Resolution Is Tabled 12 to 10 After Long Debate

Star Publisher Blocks Vote to Put Quorum Court on Record

A SOUNDING BOARD

Washburn Declares Prohis Sought to "Use" Levying Court Session

An attempt to put the Hempstead County Quorum Court on record as opposing the state liquor control law and advocating a county referendum was blocked late Monday when the justices tabled the prohibition resolution by 12 votes to 10.

After a six-hour session that had disclosed that the county government to be so badly overdrawn that appropriations for the coming year had to be delayed until the first Monday in January, the prohibition resolution popped up unexpectedly on the eve of adjournment.

Sheriff Jim E. Bearden read the resolution, and the Rev. Wallace R. Rogers, pastor of First Baptist church of Hope, spoke in its behalf. Sheriff Bearden and City Attorney W. S. Atkins of Hope also urged its adoption. Publisher Blocks It.

Alex. H. Washburn, publisher of The Star and justice of the peace from DeRoon township, replied with a speech denouncing any movement "to make liquor tax-free at a time when the state has to tax the bread men put in their stomachs and the clothes they put on their back." He also criticized the churches, as tax-free institutions, for presuming themselves to say what the taxpayers should or should not tax.

Dr. F. O. Wood, justice from DeAnn, spoke for the prohibition resolution; but A. J. Fafferty, justice from Patton, spoke against it. Mr. Lafferty said: "I speak for the people down our way—we are proud that we have got the liquor out of it, and we know what's going on and can police it."

As a roll call was about to be ordered on the resolution Washburn countered with a motion to table the measure.

The debate started all over again, this time not on the wet-or-dry question but as to whether or not the quorum court had any authority to discuss the liquor question.

Point of Law

Washburn told the justices: "It is provided by law that any county can repeal the liquor control act locally by circulating a petition with 35 per cent of the poll tax list signing it, and then calling an election. All that the advocates of this resolution are after is simply this: They find the circulation of their petition is exceedingly hard, and they feel that if the quorum court can be made to appear to be supporting their position—however illegal that might be—then that would help them to obtain signatures."

"There is nothing in the oath of a justice of the peace that requires him to vote publicly on the liquor question, losing the right guaranteed every citizen of voting privately. As justices you aren't charged with the responsibility of settling the liquor question, and I am moving therefore to table the resolution."

It was tabled by 12 to 10.

Huey's Brother to Talk in Magnolia

Circulars were distributed in Hope Tuesday announcing that Earl Long, youngest brother of the late Huey P. Long, would deliver a public address at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the courthouse in Magnolia.

Mr. Long will speak in the interest of his candidacy for lieutenant governor of Louisiana and in behalf of the share our wealth movement.

Dr. D. H. Dillon of Springfield, La., will also appear on the program. The circular was issued by the Columbia county association of share our wealth societies.

Claims Brought Over From 1934 'Outlawed'

LITTLE ROCK.—County Judge H. M. Stephens of Hempstead county was advised by the attorney general's office Monday night that if county revenue is exhausted and he has on hand approximately $3,000 in unallowed claims, he probably has allowed many claims which he should not have approved, since it is his duty to see that the statutory claims are allowed before he approves contractual claims.

The opinion added that warrants for claims brought over from 1934 should not have been paid from 1935 revenue and could be paid legally only from 1934 revenues.

Pulaski Reduces Tax by 2 1/2 Mills

With $175,000 Surplus, Capital City's County Relieves Its Taxpayers

LITTLE ROCK.—The Pulaski County Quorum Court Monday reduced the general fund levy from five to 2 1/2 mills by a vote of 100 to 1, when threatened opposition to the reduction dissolved in the face of assurance from County Judge Cook that the present treasury surplus of $175,000 had not been accumulated at the expense of public charities.

Harry C. Malcolm, deputy state labor commissioner, who charged in a statement issued Saturday that the county had neglected permissible charities during the past three years, cast the lone vote against the reduction. He advocated re-establishment of the mothers' pension fund to care for unemployed. W. S. Mitchell opposed the tax reduction from the floor but voted "aye."

The resolution was offered by Harold A. Young, chairman of the Budget Committee, and seconded by Hayley M. Bennett. Mr. Young reiterated Judge Cook's declaration that charities had suffered was "not true." He said the treasury surplus was the result of increased tax collections and the redemption of tax-forsfeited property. Alton Durden, auditor assigned to the county by the state comptroller, advised the Budget Committee that the reduced levy would be sufficient to operate the county, he said.

Nude Stage Girls Bring Police Raid

But Rube Goldberg Calls Raid on Artists' Benefit Show "an Insult"

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Charges that five girls appeared before 300 male spectators in varying degrees of nudity at a benefit show given by the Society of Illustrators were made by public Monday in New York state's epic complaint against them. A police raid interrupted the show last Friday night and the five girls were hustled off to a police station.

Wearing a transparent dress was the alleged misdemeanor of one performer. Two of the girls were charged with appearing "in a nude condition" in a skit entitled, "The Warning of the Battle." One girl allegedly carried a dress "and waved it at times in front of her person."

The complaint alleged another girl "did disrobe on said stage," in a scene entitled "War Clouds." Seven men dressed as veterans of the War Between the States appeared in the same skit.

Another defendant was charged with nudity in a scene called, "Give Me a Cigarette."

Rube Goldberg, who was in the audience, called the raid "an insult." "It may have been risqué, but it wasn't indecent," declared Fred C. Cooper, manager of the show, which was staged for the benefit of needy artists. He said the girls were "all from good families."

Police Commissioner Valentine replied, "It makes no difference. The indecency laws relate to all."

Courts Imperiled; County Is Closing Year $4,500 Short

Levying Court Carries Over Most of Business to January 6

A SALES TAX MOVE

Justices Vote 15 to 7 to Petition State for Share of Levy

The Hempstead Quorum Court looked into the county's cupboard at the annual levying session Monday at Washington—and found that the cupboard was bare.

In fact, it was somewhat worse than that—in the "red" about $4,500. A few tentative appropriations were voted, subject to the finding of sufficient revenue, but the court adjourned until the first Monday in January without voting on statutory and general contract demands.

The delay until the first of the year was requested by County Judge H. M. Stephens who was awaiting a ruling from Attorney General Carl E. Bailey as to whether the statute limiting a county's expense to the year's revenue applies merely against claims allowed within the year or all outstanding claims.

Judge Stephens recalled the "flood" of several thousand dollars' indebtedness that has been in existence in the county government for years, and said that until the status of this debt was determined by the attorney general, the quorum court wouldn't know how much revenue it would have available for 1936.

Stephens' Statement

"At the present moment," the judge told the justices, "the county has in sight about $300 more revenue than the total of outstanding warrants. But there is pending $3,000 in unallowed claims, and the county government still has two months to run, which will cost about $2,500 additional. So we stand to finish the year about $4,500 in the hole."

"When I took office I inherited a debt of about $7,000. It has been hard to make ends meet. You know the crash hit us in 1930. In 1931 and 1932 the people were struggling with small income and heavy property assessments. By 1933 they began to get smaller assessments—and then the county's tax revenue fell off, making it difficult to keep expenses within income, let alone trying to retire indebtedness."

"Now I am not going to allow any claims unless I have the money to pay them."

"If an official should handle the public business just as he would his private business—and a private business man wouldn't give you a check unless he had money in the bank to honor it."

"It is my hope to leave the county out of debt when I go out of office. Many of your justice of the peace claims are unpaid. I'm sorry about that. But I'll tell you this: I'm not drawing any salary as judge for September, October, November and December."

Barden on Enforcement

Sheriff Jim E. Bearden called attention to the deplorable condition in the courts and law-enforcement agencies as the result of insufficient revenue.

"The public knows," he said, "that we have no money with which to hold court."

"Under present condition it is impossible for the circuit court ever to reach the misdemeanor docket at all. We are reminded of that fact by the very fellows we go out to arrest. They promise that they'll beat us back home from the courthouse."

"As your sheriff I have tried to enforce the law and at the same time hold down expenses. By waiver of indictment and accepting pleas of guilty we have saved $1,081 in the past year that otherwise would have been added to the circuit court bill."

State Senator John L. Wilson waited on the quorum court with a resolution in which the justices called upon the state government to grant the counties 15 per cent of the state sales tax, and also asked the state to relieve the counties of the charge of $5 per week per patient for citizens placed in the subnormal sanatorium.

The quorum court adopted the resolution by 13 votes to 7, the opposition developing because of fear that any disruption of the present sales tax division would lead to repeal of the entire sales tax act.

CLUB NOTES

Old Liberty
The Old Liberty Home Demonstration club met at the church on Wednesday, October 30, 1935, with 8 members and two visitors present. The house was called to order by the president, Mrs. Guy Hicks. The club song "Bringing in the Sheaves," followed by devotional given by Mrs. Joe Moody, who used the 12th chapter of Romans for the lesson.

Several of the members brought exhibits. Mrs. Moody's exhibit was chosen as best and will be used on achievement day, November 14. Miss Griffin discussed several interesting points in judging canned goods.

The club then adjourned to meet the next time at the home of Mrs. S. B. Bristol. Miss Griffin said she had a surprise for us and asked each member to bring some scraps, needle, thread, scissors, and thimble to the next meeting.

sales tax, in which The Star was a pioneer, said that it was a dangerous political move to attempt to utilize any part of it at the present time for the relief of local government. He opposed the resolution as regards the sales tax.

Senator Wilson did not state whether the proposed 15 per cent cut for the county government would come from the 65 per cent share now taken by the schools, or the 35 per cent share taken by the welfare board.

Washburn pointed out that through beer and liquor and other special revenues entirely aside from the sales tax the state government had wiped out a million-dollar overdraft. He asked Senator Wilson why it wouldn't be advisable to demand that the state split some of these other revenues with the county governments—and leave the sales tax alone.

Municipal Judge W. K. Lemley, of Hope, appeared before the court with a warning that the last legislature had changed the state law governing municipal courts, giving the municipal judge the right to mandamus the county for its share of the cost of running the court. The municipal judge told the justices that the law required them to appropriate $1,800. Judge Lemley reported that the county already owed him $1,000, over a period of two years.

Sheriff Bearden said 95 per cent of the city's cases were being appealed to the bankruptcy circuit court.

The quorum court re-elected Bernard Lafferty, Mark Jackson and Stuart Monroe to the equalization board.

Mrs. G. B. Morris, R. C. Stuart and A. H. Washburn were named as a committee to present a memorial to the family of Wash Hutson, late county judge.

The court tentatively approved the following appropriations:
Farm agent $1,000; home demonstration agent $1,000; health nurse $600, a small amount, $200 or $300, to pay the material cost on a WPA project to recopy old county records; and $25 per month for the rental of a federal warehouse on Elm street, Hope, this expense being offset by the county's saving the cost of running the county poor farm.

As the hour of 11 approached, the president slowly walked out on the impressive esplanade before the tomb. A 21-gun salute lifted over the ramparts of old Fort Meyer. The Army band played the "Star Spangled Banner." Guards of marines, sailors and soldiers snapped to attention.

Mrs. Roosevelt, Secretary Swanson and acting Secretary of War Woodring stood to the rear as the president placed the country's floral tribute of big white chrysanthemums beneath a

Chinese Accused of Stoning Japs

Friction Nears Danger Point in Relations With the Japanese

TOKYO, Japan.—(AP)—Japanese authorities gave indications Tuesday that at least some sections of the Tokyo government envisioned the possibility of armed pressure on China as the result of anti-Japanese incidents in Shanghai.

Police circulated an order forbidding newspapers and news agencies to publish anything concerning naval or air forces "which may be sent to China," except official communiques.

Japs Are Stoned

SHANGHAI, China.—(AP)—Tension increased in Sino-Japanese relations Tuesday with reports of the asserted stoning of a Japanese school girl, while the Japanese government formally requested immediate arrest of the perpetrators of disorders Monday night. The developments followed arrival of more troops from Japanese warships.

Windows of a Japanese-owned store on busy Nanking road were smashed by bricks and bottles in the demonstration Monday night, causing feeling in the Japanese community, aroused by the slaying Saturday of a Japanese marine, Hideo Nukayama, to mount still higher.

The Japanese press gave prominence to reports that the Japanese girl had been endangered by stones thrown by a Chinese youth.

carved inscription:

"Here rests in honored glory an American soldier unknown but to God."

The president stepped back. A muffled drum rolled once, again, a third time.

Quietly, the president entered the gleaming marble amphitheater. To the ringing bugle notes of "To the Colors," muffled flags moved down the aisles to rim the stately enclosure. An overture, a prayer, again the "Star Spangled Banner," and the president rose on a rostrum, flag-draped and banked with palms and ferns, to deliver a plea that the country may ever be free of foreign strife.

property, but today only 12 per cent are left in this class, according to Corey, author of "The Decline of American Capitalism" and "The House of Morgan."

Corey divides the point frequently made by defenders of large corporations that because their stock is so widely owned the public is adequately represented in their operations.

"Stockholders in 1928 numbered 3,750,000, of whom 325,000 owned 80 per cent of the stock," he writes. "Today there are probably not more than 3,600,000. Independent enterprises number 2,700,000 and probably 500,000 of them are stockholders. That makes 5,200,000 persons who are directly involved in the ownership of capitalist industry."

Eighty per cent of all Americans are dependent for their livelihood upon jobs, as compared to 20 per cent a century ago, according to Corey's calculations. More than 600,000 small stockholders have lost their businesses in the last five years. Not only is the small business man fading from the picture, but 80 per cent of professional men and women, including doctors and lawyers, are salaried employees now.

Ex-Senator Reed's Clients Acquitted by U. S. Jury at St. Louis

ST. LOUIS.—(AP)—Five executives and corporate interests of Warner Bros. Radio-Keith-Orpheum and Paramount were acquitted of anti-trust charges by a federal court jury that deliberated only 38 minutes Monday night.

The jury heard 1,000,000 words of testimony during the six weeks trial. The defendants were charged with conspiring in restraint of trade in refusing to rent their films to Fanchon-Mareau, conducting three first-run St. Louis theaters.

Federal Judge George H. Moore, instructed the jurors to find the motion picture companies guilty "if there was a refusal to supply film as a result of an understanding or combination."

Frederic H. Wood, a defense lawyer, objected to the court's instructions. He said the charge was a "stump speech calculated to prejudice the jury."

The case reached the jury after six weeks of testimony in which the defendant companies denied conspiring against the local theaters. James A. Reed, former United States senator, defense lawyer, declared only a local condition was involved and that the case grew out of efforts of Harry Koplar, theater man here, "to run Warners out of St. Louis."

Egg Money

A farmer's wife went into the bank to make a deposit for the Ladies Aid, of which she was president. As she placed a goodly sum at the window, she placed a goodly sum at the window, she said, "Here is the Aid money."

The slightly deaf cashier understanding the depositor to say "Egg money," replied: "Well, well! The egg hens did well this week, didn't they?"

All Work, No Play

First Lawyer: "Have you seen one of those instruments which can tell when a man is lying?"
Second Lawyer: "Eee one! I married one!"

Revival Meeting to Run a Month

Hope Gospel Tabernacle Omits Services Saturday Night Only

The revival meeting at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle will continue throughout the month of November. Naturally the rainy weather is materially affecting attendance, but it is the plan to have services throughout the month, except Saturday nights, when the weather permits.

Each Thursday night the Rev. Bert Webb expects to preach on some prophetic subject. Friday nights there will be a children's choir.

Perhaps one or two nights out of the week, from now on, Mr. Henry will play special selections on the piano for 15 minutes before the opening of the services. Further announcement will be made regarding this feature.

A special drive is being made to build up Sunday School attendance. Those not attending Sunday school elsewhere are cordially invited next Sunday morning.

Walter Chrysler Flayed by British

Judge Censures "Lamentably Low" Standards of Business Morality

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—Justice Atkinson of the King's Bench Division Monday lashed at Walter P. Chrysler, American automobile manufacturer, as having a "lamentably low" standard of business morality but eliminating him from connection with "actionable conspiracy."

These were his comments on the Chrysler Company head in the course of a full day's deliberation of judgment in a suit brought by British plaintiffs against Chrysler and several associates for a sum estimated by lawyers at $350,000 in connection with sale of Chrysler shares by the plaintiffs to the defendants.

Justice Atkinson said he was satisfied that three of the defendants—Bernard E. Hutchinson, Stephen D. Briggs and Joseph Fields of the Chrysler Corporation—had engaged in an actionable conspiracy to obtain shares held by Arnold de la Poer, a Briton, in Chrysler Motors Ltd., at a price lower than their value.

The conspiracy, he indicated, was carried out in November and December, 1927, "by a threat to procure cancellation of the franchise without any just cause" of the sales agreement held by de la Poer and the Suffolk Investment Company Ltd., from the Chrysler Sales Corporation.

Atkinson said he did not regard either Fields, head of the Sales Department of the Chrysler Corporation, or Briggs as reliable witnesses, while of Hutchinson, he said:

"He is obviously a man of the greatest business ability and acumen. For him there is obviously only one thing that matters—the Chrysler Corporation."

"Where other interests are concerned he can be ruthless and unscrupulous."

Only One in 10 Persons Getting Married Can Think of a Reason

NEW YORK.—Thirteen thousand women and 5,450 men who applied for marriage licenses this year were asked why they were getting married. Only 1,620 or fewer than one in 10, could think of an answer.

But they knew what they wanted, it is said by the Marital Relations Institute.

Answering the question, "What do you expect out of marriage?" the men and women chiefly desired "financial security" and "a good home."

Other answers were "love and companionship, social prestige, gratification of natural desires, emotional outlet, understanding, and sympathy."

Four women laconically replied: "Nothing."

Optimism was the outstanding characteristic displayed by the brides and grooms in answering another question: "How long do you think your marriage will last?"

About 34 per cent answered "forever," 15 per cent estimated their marriage would last 20 years, three per cent estimated 10 years, 4 per cent seven years, 19 per cent five years, and six per cent two years.

Figuring "forever" as equaling 30 years of marriage, Jack Anthony, director of the institute, figured that the average estimate was 16 years, two months and one week. This is optimistic, he said, because United States government statistics show that the average marriage lasts only six years and eight months.

Should Shoot With Care

In the American advance during the final days of the war, a sergeant ordered an unattached private to go in to a dugout and clean out any Germans that happened to be there.

The colored gentleman blanched a bit, swallowed his Adam's apple, and then said huskily, "Ef you sees three or fo' men cum a runnin' out ob dat hole, don't shoot de fust one."

Stop Chills and Fever!

Rid Your System of Malaria!

Shivering with chills one moment and burning with fever the next—that's one of the effects of Malaria. Unless checked, the disease will do serious harm to your health. Malaria, a blood infection, sets for two things: First, destroying the infection in the blood. Second, building up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and to fortify against further attack.

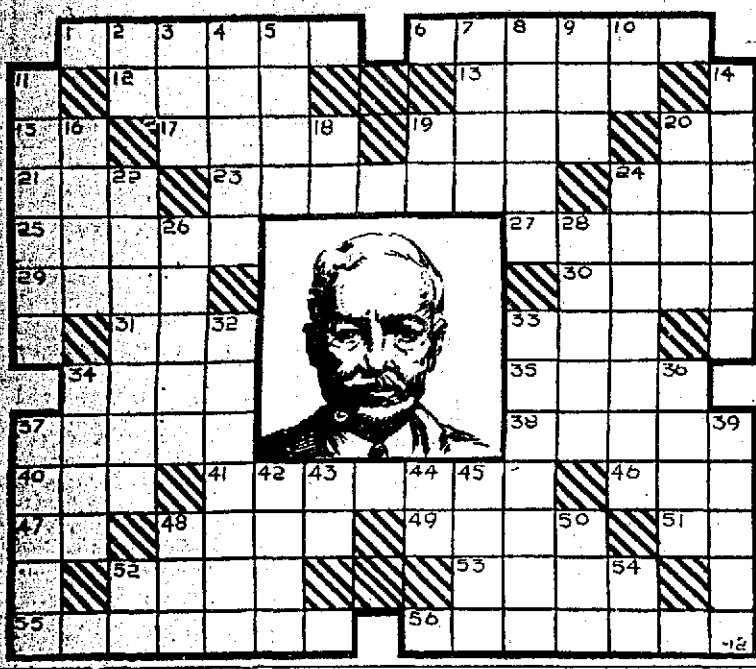

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic supplies both these effects. It contains tasteless quinine, which kills the infection in the blood, and iron, which enriches and builds up the blood. Chills and fever soon stop and you are restored to health and comfort. For half a century, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has been sure relief for Malaria. It is just as useful, too, as a general tonic for old and young. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle at any drug store. Now two sizes—50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2 1/2 times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25% more for your money.
